"Like everyone these days, we need a rock-solid reliable IT support service. We have been with John Davies at Boldfield for many years now and we'd never want to change.

He knows us so well and so can sort out any of our IT issues very quickly. It is an absolute pleasure and relief to know that I can rely on him absolutely 100%. Our office is in Windsor and he is in London, but he always comes to see us whenever we need. He gives us a very bespoke service and does regular site visits to help us keep up-to-date.

We have the usual desktop computers and 1 laptop which are all networked. We recently updated our security and all our back-up arrangements and Boldfield did very well on the comparative quotes. It was all implemented quickly and easily without an interruption to what we were doing.

We do our accounts in house and also need to be able to process and print music scores. Carl Davis composes all his work by hand with pencil and paper and we turn this into a digital format using software package called Siebelius.

I can text, call or email Jon at Boldfield and he's always there for us – he's one of our team, just not in the office."
