In order to aid the company transition from one site to many Boldfield implemented a from Migration from a physical server environment to VMware Hypervisors with multiple storage points.

These are fully connected via UK Wide VPN Network to allow easy integration of file structures, active directory structures as well as a fully redundant backup infrastructure.

Boldfield have completed complex projects for both Mistras a client as well as to sub contract out to provide assistance in installing and maintaining networks for Mistras's ever growing customer base.

With the Aid of Mistras group core members, we have been able to form a very strong working relationship between the two companies. Boldfield have been able to provide solutions and be involved with planning and consultancy from a very early point regardless of whether the project is an internal project for Mistras or if it is external projects for Customers of Mistras. Boldfield have been able to maintain a high level of Technical Advice to keep a highly flexible environment progressing throughout major changes and organic growth of Mistras.

"Boldfield have been providing us with expert IT consultancy and support in the UK since 2007. In that time our business has expanded from a small single site to a UK wide, multi-site organisation that is, in turn, part of a successful global group.

From an initial contract that covered only our Cambridge site we have since asked Boldfield to support our sites in Aberdeen, Bridgend, Hartlepool and Rotherham as we expanded the company through organic growth and acquisition; Boldfield have readily adjusted to this change of scope and are providing support for us nationally.

In addition, Boldfield have helped us deliver major client projects more effectively by contributing specialist assistance in planning and execution of IT elements.

We have come to regard Boldfield as a true partner supporting us through our rapid growth, constantly adapting to meet the new challenges we set them and providing us with strategic input to develop our Information Technology plan. Their support is vital to a business of our scale and technical bias and allows us to focus our energies on our clients."
